

The Landscape of Your Dreams

EXTERIORS THAT “WOW!”

You don't have to live on an estate to enjoy an estate worthy landscape. Imagine gazing upon an artistic waterscape from your back door; the soothing sounds of the waterfall making every day a Zen experience. In the evening, maybe you'll do some informal entertaining on a multi level deck surrounded with lush plantings. As the sun goes down, your guests may gather lazily around a Tuscan style firepit that is accented with just the right amount of mood lighting. If you can dream it, your landscape designer can create it. No matter how large or small your property, an innovative, artistic landscape with the “wow” factor is within your grasp.

As homeowners strive to create exteriors that function as true outdoor rooms, the concept of landscaping has evolved into a bonafide art form. Combining hardscaping elements with meticulously chosen plantings, today's experienced landscape designers can customize a comprehensive design plan that accentuates the natural splendor of your grounds while increasing its visual, functional and environmental appeal. Knowledgeable experts can construct a dynamic new scene from the ground up, or easily incorporate fresh and exciting new details into any existing layout.

The success of your project, whatever the scale, pivots on the design/build team you select. Keep in mind that while many call themselves design/build, few have the credentials to back up the title. Be sure to consider whether the firm is a member of the exclusive EP Henry Authorized Landscaping™ Contractor Program, These contractors are pre-screened professionals who are monitored on a regular basis by EP Henry to ensure their work is of the highest quality.

Your design/build firm should also have Interlocking Concrete Pavement Institution (ICPI) certification. Members of ICPI have access to a shared wealth of resources that provide customers with the most current information and techniques available, including landscape-imaging software, technology that allows you to see the finished model before construction even starts. Consistent, proper construction practices are crucial in designing hardscapes and landscapes that last forever.

With both ICPI certification and membership in the EP Henry Authorized Landscaping™ Contractor Program, B. DeMichele, Inc. of Media PA has both the vision and expertise to build a cohesive plan that is in harmony with your lifestyle, your property, and your wallet. B. DeMichele is a full service residential landscape contractor; an all-inclusive design/build firm capable of overseeing and executing all aspects of your project. They specialize in ground-breaking design and installation of hardscaping, landscaping, and nightscaping as well as waterscapes and irrigation.

So, whether it's managing a completely new design project or simply assisting with an existing job, from original plans to a completely finished design, DeMichele can create a distinctive backdrop that will enhance your property value and your lifestyle. Their experienced professionals have the right tools and credentials to improve upon the natural appeal of the existing surroundings. For more information, please contact Blasé DeMichele at 610 361-7832 or visit www.DeMicheleinc.com and start planning your backyard resort. DL